

Want to get a head start on your career?

We can help — with a fully forgivable loan designed to help you finish college with less debt.

If you're a current student in a high-need talent field, Questa and Bowen Center will fund your last two years of postsecondary education and connect you to job opportunities after graduation. Our loan is 100% forgivable when you graduate and work at Bowen Center for at least two years. That means you can jump straight into your dream career without worrying about paying back your loan.

Program requirements

- Pursuing a certificate or degree in a high-need talent field including:
 - Certified Medical Assisting
 - Nursing, leading to licensure
 - Master's level degree in social work or licensure as a therapist
- Intent to work at a Bowen Center in-person location upon graduation
- Currently accepted and/or enrolled at an accredited Indiana College or university and within two years of graduation
- Cumulative GPA of 2.5 or greater is preferred
- Experiencing a financial gap in affording educational expenses
